Whiskey Revolt in Upper Michigan

Iron River County in Open Rebellion at Enforcement of Prohibition
—To Clean Up County
(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Federal prohibition officers from Chicago today were enroute to Iron county, of the upper Michigan peninsula, to quell a "whiskey revolt." Major D. Dalrymple, prohibition agent of the central division, headed the squad of federal agents who left Chicago for Iron River late last night. Before leaving Dalrymple declared the county was in an "open revolt" against prohibition enforcement.

The force with which the prohibition officers are intending to clean up the county consists of approximately forty federal agents and an equal number of state constabularies. Dalrymple, previous to leaving, was in touch with federal prohibition officers at Washington by long distance telephone and requested issuance of warrants for the arrest of the prosecuting attorney of Iron county, two police officials, five deputy sheriffs and three other men.

Word of the alleged revolt was brought to Chicago by Leo J. Groves, supervising prohibition agent for the Michigan upper peninsula.

Groves said the members of the state constabulary said they raided a store five miles from Iron River operated by the Scalucci brothers, Steve and Joseph, and seized eleven barrels of wine. The brothers were arrested. While enroute back to Iron River, he and his associates were stopped by M. S. McDonough, prosecuting attorney of Iron county, Chief of Police Captain C. Brown and Deputy Sheriff Jesse Allen of Iron River. Groves said he presented his credentials as federal agent to McDonough.

"These are not worth the paper it is written on," said McDonough, according to Groves. McDonough ordered the driver on the sleigh carrying the wine barrels to turn around while federal agents ordered him to go ahead. Groves was overpowered.

Allen charged that Groves was "trying to pull something off." Allen declared Groves had no warrant for the arrest of the trio and for that reason county authorities demanded they be released.

"We will take no action unless the prohibition agents make another attempt to take these fellows without warrants," Allen said.

M. S. McDonough, prosecuting attorney for Iron county, was sleeping this morning and would not be disturbed. He plans to be at his office at 11 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Allen said the Scalucci brothers were at home so far as he knew. He claimed not to know where the wine was stored, but said it was somewhere in Iron River. "We are not going to make any trouble," Allen said.

Iron River Peaceful

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 23.—Iron River was figuratively sitting on the brink of America's first "prohibition war" today—but was mighty peaceful and calm.

Even Jesse Allen, deputy sheriff, who prevented a prohibition agent arresting three citizens on a charge of violating the Volstead act, was unpretentious.

Told that A. W. Dalrymple, prohibition chief of the central division, was trying to get warrants for the arrest of county officials who interfered with the action of a prohibition agent, Allen said he understood he would not be able to get the warrants.

Allen seemed disappointed that Dalrymple, and forty agents reported enroute from Chicago to clean up Iron county, did not arrive today. He was advised that they left Chicago last night.

"There has been no violation of the prohibition act in Iron county," Allen declared. His statement coincided with that of his chief, R. Wilson, of Crystal Falls, sheriff of Iron county.

Leo Grove, in charge of prohibition enforcement of the upper peninsula of Michigan, could not be located today. He was to arrest John, Joseph and Steve Scalucci, brothers, living near here, and confiscate eleven barrels of grape wine they admitted having manufactured last fall. He asserted they kept the wine for sale.

Local Officials Intereared

action in connection with the enforcement of the federal prohibition law here. According to an explanation of the incident by officials here, the state constabulary and the federal agents were informed by McDonough that they had exceeded their authority in serving warrants on the Scalucci brothers. McDonough held the wine was within a private home, and there was no evidence that it was being sold by the brothers. The brothers admitted they had the wine in their possession, but claimed they did not have it for sale. They started the wine was made from a car load of grapes in their possession last summer which otherwise would have spoiled.

No Gun Play

Crystal Falls, Mich., Feb. 23.—"There will be no gun play at Iron River," Sheriff R. Wilson of Iron county, told the United Press today. "Prohibition agents will find no trouble, and so far no violation of the prohibition enforcement act."

Request Palmer to Investigate

Washington, Feb. 23.—Commissioner Daniel Roper, of the internal revenue service, today announced he would make a formal request of Attorney General Palmer to investigate the "whiskey revolt" in Iron county, Michigan, where Prosecuting Attorney M. S. McDonough arrested prohibition officers who had seized home made wine.

"This is a case where Palmer must act," said Roper. Roper spent the morning in his office conferring with Federal Prohibition Commissioner Kramer on the report on the revolt from prohibition agents in Iron county. Prohibition officers said the entire matter must be investigated and punishment meted out to those at fault. That unless the case is handled firmly many attempts to revolt will be made. The success of the law may depend upon the present revolt, they said.

Will Go Tomorrow

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Major A. W. Dalrymple and band of prohibition enforcement workers will leave Chicago tonight for Iron county to "clean up" alleged illicit liquor traffic in the mining region.

Dalrymple, after announcing that he would leave last night for the region of the "rebellion," said at his office today his plans had been changed. Whether troops will be asked to aid was not decided today at his office. But the party will include all the local staff.

Local Officials Hedging

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 23.—M. S. McDonough, county attorney for Iron county, wired the attorney general of Michigan and Attorney General Palmer today demanding a "full and complete" investigation of the "fake stories" regarding a prohibition revolt in Iron River.

McDonough charged that reports of a prohibition revolution were absolutely without foundation.

When advised that Major A. Dalrymple, chief prohibition enforcement agent, planned to leave Chicago tonight with a force of agents to "clean up" the alleged illegal liquor traffic in Iron county, McDonough said the move would be "foolish."

"We are having no trouble with liquor traffic in Iron River. We have made arrests and prosecuted, and are making every effort to fulfill every provision of the law. This fellow, Leo Grove, came here representing himself as a federal prohibition agent but had no credentials. He could show us nothing in the way of credentials of any kind. He ordered the three men arrested. I took charge of the wine which I had confiscated and will gladly return the same to any bonafide representative of the government. We are not opposing the government but are aiding in every way possible."

Resume Commercial Relations with Russia

Council of Premiers Have Agreed to a Complete Resumption of Trade With Russia

By ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Feb. 23.—Premiers Lloyd George and Nitti have agreed to a complete resumption of commercial relations with Russia but will have no diplomatic relations with the soviet government, it was learned here today, just before resumption of the conference of the council of premiers. The two premiers, according to the report, feel that commercial relations should be resumed at once because of the European economic situation. If the soviet government demonstrates its ability to survive, it is believed that diplomatic relations inevitably will follow the resumption of commerce.

It was understood Millerand, representing France, will accept the proposal of the British and Italian premiers.

This week's session was expected to be one of the most important since the council convened. Fifty statesmen will attend the session, including representatives of France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Hungary, Turkey, Germany and Yugoslavia.

Premier Millerand accompanied by Vittorio Scialoja, the Italian foreign minister, left Paris for London yesterday. Scialoja it is said, will represent Italy in a conference on the economic situation.

London, Feb. 23.—The Liberal press today united in the demand for peace with Russia on the ground of expediency.

After the council of premiers had resumed their conference to discuss the Russian situation, peace with the soviet government was brought to the front, not only by a petition signed by prominent military and civil leaders, Premier Lenine, but insistent demands of the press.

Federal Reserve Board Wants More Power to Check Credit Expansion

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 23.—The federal reserve board today petitioned congress for additional authority to check credit expansion in transmitting its annual report to the house.

Credit expansion made necessary by the war in proportions never before known, is conceded to be one of the principal causes of high cost of necessities and commodities.

The authorities, under increased rediscount rates already possessed by the board, which have a standard method of checking expenses now, is inefficient because of present abnormal conditions. Governor Harding of the board pointed out. The board now holds power to increase rediscount rates to each bank in direct proportion to its borrowing. Under this plan the more a bank borrows the higher rates it will have to pay. This is intended to force the banks to bring pressure to bear on its large borrowers.

Miss Hazel, a student nurse, was working in the drug room of the hospital, when a mixture she was working with, caught fire. Many high explosives were stored in the room. The nurse grabbed the flaming mixture without a single outcry, and fled through the long corridor leading to the street. As she threw open the door the wind blew the flames back into her face and her clothing caught fire. Other nurses came to her assistance but she was severely burned before the flames could be extinguished.

House Passes Railroad Bill

Despite Opposition of Organized Labor by a Majority of One Hundred

Washington, Feb. 22.—Organized labor lost its fight to defeat the railroad bill late today when the house, after a five hour debate adopted the conference report on the measure by a majority of 100 votes.

The Yeas were 250; nays, 150; present, 1.

Previously a motion to recommit the bill made by Rep. A. W. Barkley of Kentucky, was defeated by a vote of 171 to 229.

The senate will act on the measure on Monday. Its approval in the upper branch is assured. Organized labor's only chance of its defeat then will rest upon appeal to President Wilson to veto it. A veto is not considered likely, although a formidable list of democrats voted against the bill, only about 20 republicans being included among the 150 recorded in the negative.

Thirty-two democrats voted for it. The president will have several days to act on the bill before the roads go back to their owners March 1, under the proclamation issued some time ago.

Bill Before Senate

H. WALKER.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Washington, Feb. 23.—Ignorance and malice have grossly misrepresented the provision and purpose of the Esch-Cummins bill. Senator Cummins told the senate, in urging it to pass the measure on which the house took final vote Saturday.

Cummins' replied to criticisms of the clause of the bill which guarantees the roads 5 1/2 per cent return on their investment, and said that he could not understand the assault against the labor section of the measure.

Both of these clauses of the bill have been under fire from the railroad brotherhoods and other railroad unions who are meeting here today and planning to carry their fight on the bill to President Wilson.

The union men were expected to ask President Wilson to veto the bill, and go ahead with the formation of a tribunal to settle the present wage dispute, irrespective of congress. President Wilson is said to be drawing up a communication to the union men in reply to suggestions for an independent wage tribunal, which were first made to him ten days ago. Whether he will agree to such a tribunal, or insist upon the union men go before a body set up by the Esch-Cummins bill, was not indicated.

Cummins opened discussion on the bill. He said he was hopeful it could be acted upon today.

Ancient Sinai Tablets.

Older by thousands of years than the tablets of Moses, certain inscriptions in sandstone at the Magharah mines, on the Sinai peninsula, have convinced modern investigators that the product of those ancient workings was not copper, as supposed, but turquoise, an exchange says. The most marvelous product of those mines of antiquity is their inscriptions. The tablets, one of which measures 102 by 63 inches, are carved in relief, with remarkable character on sandstone, whose seemingly perishable nature has withstood the erosions of time since 4500 B. C.—some 3,700 years before Moses' day, and nearly 7,000 years before the twentieth century. Many valuable specimens have been destroyed by vandals prospecting, but those remaining are now in the care of the Cairo museum.

Two Sailors
Killed by Bursting
Steam Pipes

(By United Press)

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 23—Two sailors were killed and two seriously injured by the bursting of steam pipes on the destroyer Kilty, which was engaged in a speed run off this port.

McIntosh Not Removed

St. Paul, Feb. 23—Hugh McIntosh, who has not been removed as sheriff of Koochiching county, but merely suspended pending hearing on charges filed against him, according to Governor Burnquist.

The governor was at the capitol for the first time today since two weeks ago, when he was taken ill with influenza and pneumonia. He pointed out it was necessary to appoint an acting sheriff of Koochiching county because Sheriff McIntosh had disappeared.

Investigate N. D. "U" Head

Grand Forks, Feb. 23—The state board of administration investigating charges of alleged incompetency brought against Thomas Kane, president of the University of North Dakota, was still in session here this afternoon. It was reported that some of the students here refused to pay their tuition fees and one report was that only one student had registered for new classes.

J. Willardson, secretary, said all classes will begin Wednesday as scheduled. He refused to discuss the report. Charges that politics was responsible for the movement against Kane were denied.

Giant Eels.

It is said there are eels no one can land. Some years ago a giant eel was caught in shallow water off the shores of England. It measured eight feet, eight inches in length, and weighed 118 pounds. Congers half that size have been known to bite a man's hand in two and to have driven their teeth through the blade of an ax. In 1913 Kakanamski, the champion swimmer of Honolulu, was attacked by a giant eel which dragged him under water and held him there for nearly two minutes. He escaped at last, but at the cost of a finger from his right hand. Eels attain an immense size in the rivers of New Zealand and have been known to attack bathers. In fact, many cases of drowning have been proven to be where eels have dragged the bathers beneath the surface of the water.

Chinese Widows Suicide.

Chinese widows rarely remarry. As a rule customs of society do not go further. But in some parts of Fuhien the self-destruction of widows in their devotion to their husbands has assumed almost barbarous forms. For example, when a man passes away his wife will generally declare her intention to kill herself to demonstrate her faithfulness toward him. Then the elders of the family will cause a big stove to be erected and invite the relatives.

WOMAN'S REALM

WOMEN CAN'T VOTE

Attorney General Rules Minnesotans Are Not Eligible

Minnesota women cannot vote lawfully at city and village elections on March 9 throughout the state, under a ruling by Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton on inquiries from numerous village clerks.

While Minnesota and twenty-eight other states have ratified the woman's suffrage amendment to the United States Constitution, the opinion by Rollin L. Smith, assistant attorney general, explained, ratification by thirty-six states is necessary to its adoption. And in the meantime, Minnesota women can vote only for presidential electors and in some cases for school officials.

Another ruling fixed March 2 as the last day on which candidates may file for village offices at coming elections.

Little brides stood at each place card and the bride's chair was trimmed with pink paper in a charming manner. All made a pretty party in the candle light.

In the evening 35 young people spent three or four hours enjoying music and dancing.

Spurious Longevity.

Sir G. C. Lewis in his "Notes and Queries" (1862) expressed his disbelief in any case of a human life exceeding 100 years. He was wrong, of course, yet fundamentally his theory is not to be set aside lightly, owing to the fact that in numerous cases of extraordinary longevity errors have crept in. For instance, the evidence said to exist in registers has often been proved to refer to two persons of the same name. In one sensational case, Carr, of Shoreditch, England, said to be 297 years of age, it was discovered that a figure 2 had been written over a figure 1. As regards tombstones there is one, at first startling, instance of 300 being first carved, which may have been an ignorant stone cutter's way of making 30.—Exchange.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE HURT BY DELAY

FULL RATIFICATION IN TIME FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES NOT LIKELY.

SURE OF ULTIMATE SUCCESS

Campaign Committee Is Confident Women Will Be Able to Register and Vote at the General Election Next November.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The women who are working for ratification of the suffrage amendment to the federal Constitution are not entirely satisfied with the way things are going. They had counted on the amendment going into effect in time to permit women to vote in the presidential primaries. Owing to their failure to obtain special legislative sessions in some states, there is now small possibility, they say, of getting the required number of votes to ratify the amendment in time to enable women to express a choice as between candidates at the primaries. The campaign committee, however, has not permitted its faith in the ultimate success of ratification of the amendment to waver. It is confident that the amendment will be in effect long before the November election. It is important, they point out, that it shall be in force a good while before the election because in some of the states the last day for registration is quite a bit in advance of election day; and of course women in those states where registration is required cannot vote unless they shall have registered.

It is the last three votes required to make the 36 that the women are not sure about. Under their plan of campaign they count on getting three votes from the following five states: Washington, West Virginia, Delaware, Connecticut and Vermont. The women say that if they can get special legislative sessions in three of these states they have no doubt as to what the outcome will be.

In Washington and Oklahoma.

Just now they are centering their demand for a special session on the governor of Washington. They have no doubt, they say, that before the first of April, the Governor will consent to call the legislature together. There is considerable difficulty about Oklahoma. The Democratic state convention in that state at its recent session passed a resolution calling on Governor Robertson to summon a special session to ratify the amendment. This resolution, the women say, was approved by Senator Owen and they believe the Oklahoma governor will accede to the demand because, as they say, he desires to see Senator Owen returned to the senate.

The whole ratification situation is somewhat complicated by the possibility of referendums being called in some of the states which have already ratified. A test case which originated in Ohio is now before the Supreme court of the United States and probably will be decided before the last of March or the first of April. An unfavorable decision that the question of ratification must go to the people, would of course mean that at least one more state than the women had counted on winning would have to be won if the women are to vote next fall.

Both old political parties through their party machinery are doing what they can to help along ratification of the amendment. Very naturally each party is seeking to gain favor with the prospective women voters as well as with the women who through state enactments already have the right to vote. Public men who are opposed to suffrage are in some instances advocating ratification by their respective legislatures. A case in point is Virginia, former Secretary of the Treasury and now Senator Glass, who has always opposed suffrage, wrote a strong letter to the Virginia legislature asking it to ratify the amendment.

They Are for Prohibition.

The prospective candidates for president, as well as the candidates for congress, and also it may be said prospective candidates for state office everywhere, are beginning to give a good deal of attention to the probable trend of the woman vote. One outstanding feature of this phase of the situation is that the politicians all agree that on any moral question there will be no doubt where the women will stand. Recently, for instance, there has been some quiet agitation in favor of either or both of the old political parties saying something in their national platforms tending toward a relaxation of the federal prohibition legislation. It was agreed by the politicians who gave the subject attention that, with the women coming into the right to vote this year, it would be bad policy for any political party to take what might appear to be a backward step on this question. In this connection some of the politicians are calling attention to the fact that at a political banquet in one of the eastern cities recently attended by some 500 persons, including nearly 100 women voters, a reference was made to the possibility of getting a party declaration against prohibition. A good many of the men banqueters stood up and applauded, but not a woman joined in the demonstration.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast
if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

The Northfield News in a column and half editorial proposes the name of W. F. Schilling of that city, for the republican nomination for governor.

It says that the next governor must be more than a politician, and more than an ordinary business man. He must have the training and the qualifications to deal with men of affairs in every walk in life. He must be a man who has more than a knowledge of agriculture, and must be big enough to recognize the purposes of organized labor, and be democratic enough to deal with its membership in a manner that they can understand, and then goes on to say that Mr. Schilling possesses these qualifications.

Mr. Schilling is a Minnesotan by birth, and was a member of the St. Paul typographical union before becoming editor of the Northfield News for about 12 years. He has been a writer for agricultural papers and was president of the State Dairy-men's association for three years and president of the state Farmers Institute for three years, and a pioneer in community work.

Apparently, he is good timber from which the republicans may select a candidate for governor.

Further delay in enforcing peace in Asia Minor, and in establishing safe and sane government in the near east, means the loss of many lives that should not be sacrificed to gratify the Turkish thirst for Christian blood.

Turkey needs to be taught a lesson that will be lasting, and the quicker the job is undertaken the better for the world, and when said job is finished Turkish power should be completely broken, and the very name of Turkey blotted forever from the maps of Europe and Asia.

France and England, under whose banners are many Moslems, hesitate for fear of a Moslem uprising; but it is necessary to fight Islam in order to secure the peace of the world, and make Asia Minor and other sections of the old Turkish empire safe abiding places for mankind, regardless of race or religion, the strife had better begin and continue until the world is assured that neither Turkey nor any other nation will be permitted to write its history in the blood of the victims of its cruelty and fanaticism.

AT THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Presbyterian Sunday School

Sunday was observed as Washington's Birthday. A very interesting program on the American Indian was given. The work of the missionaries among the different tribes was emphasized. We are indebted to Mrs. Smiley's class of boys for the splendid interpretation of Indians which they gave.

Our church has always been one of the foremost in missionary work among the Indians. At present we have more than two hundred missionaries working with forty-five tribes. The regular meeting of the D. Y. B. class was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Violet Creeger.

Beginning next Sunday ten minutes of the opening exercises will be devoted to different phases of our missionary work taken from the new book on missions.

A number of visitors were at the Sunday school to hear the program. We wish that there might more and that they would become regular attendants.

The effect of the "flu" is still felt in the attendance. But 175 were present yesterday.

The Cradle Roll under the supervision of Miss Selma Benson now shows 80 enrolled in this department.

The workers meeting for March will be held at the church on the 2nd. Some very important matters are to be discussed.

The primary department are now studying the most important lessons of the series, particularly in the second and third year. They show Gods care and love and the power of Jesus. The songs selected carry the same thought. The attendance is excellent in this department.

That the seniors are active in their social life is evident by the following announcement sent out to all members of this department:

You are asked to come on Wed., 7:30 by the clock.

To the parlors of the church—walk right in—no need to knock.

The birthday of George Washington we wish to celebrate.

Each Senior is invited—now be sure you are not late.

POTASH SUPPLY IS BIG PROBLEM

NEARLY ALL OF IT CAME FROM GERMANY BEFORE THE OUT-BREAK OF THE WAR.

MILLION TONS A YEAR USED

Domestic Sources Were Developed and Prices Went Up Tremendously—No Immediate Prospect of Renewed Shipments From Germany.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—At least four government agencies, the department of agriculture, the geological survey, the bureau of mines and the tariff commission, are wrestling with the question: "Where is this country to obtain the supply of potash which the farmers must have?" In 1914, when the world war came on, the consumption of potash in the United States was approximately a million tons a year, with an average value of about $1,500,000. Practically the whole supply came from Germany, which then enjoyed a world monopoly of the potash trade. According to a German geologist, the potash deposits of the Stassfurt district are capable of supplying 5,000,000 tons a year for 600,000 years. In 1913, the last normal year, the output was 11,618,000 metric tons, one-half of which was consumed in Germany and the rest exported. The United States afforded the largest foreign market.

The situation before the war was somewhat complicated by the peculiar organization of the German industry. All the producers were compelled by the government to join a syndicate in which the government was a partner, and the price of the product was somewhat higher than it would have been under free competition, though it was not exorbitant. The Germans enjoyed an advantage not only in the richness of their deposits, but also in the fact that most of the salts, as for example kainite, were immediately available as fertilizer, being in solid form, soluble in water, and requiring no other treatment than grinding and sacking.

American Sources Surveyed.

Some ten years ago the geological survey, at the request of congress undertook a survey of the potash possibilities in the United States. This survey was most comprehensive. The beds of kelp, a giant seaweed which flourishes on the Pacific coast and which was known to have a considerable potash content, were carefully mapped all the way up to Alaska, and experiments were conducted to determine whether the plant could be transplanted to the Atlantic. All possible sources of a domestic supply of salts were catalogued, and their probable output carefully estimated. The information thus obtained proved of immense value when the European war cut off the German supply and made American agriculture dependent on whatever could be produced at home.

German imports dwindled after July, 1914, and in 1915 the imperial government placed an embargo on potash exports. In the United States prices went up with a bound. Murate of potash, one of the most widely used fertilizer salts, which sold in New York at $39 a ton on July 1, 1914, was selling at $475 at the end of 1915. These war-time prices were a great stimulus to domestic production. The brines of certain alkaline lakes in western Nebraska and of Lake Seares, California, became the chief sources, supplying potash as a primary product, and their output in 1918 was 147,125 short tons. The kelp beds of the Pacific in that year yielded 14,456 tons.

Little for Farmers, at High Prices.

With the signing of the armistice the domestic establishments nearly all shut down on the assumption that importation of potash from Germany would be resumed. As the days passed, however, and no German potash appeared, and as prices remained very near the war level, some of the producers took fresh courage and resumed operations, though the output in 1919 was only a fraction of that of 1918.

In the meantime farmers have been compelled to reduce their use of potash about 90 per cent, and to pay abnormally high prices for the small amounts they can obtain. Production in Germany is retarded by the shortage of coal, and there is no immediate prospect of either the supply or the prices approaching a pre-war level. A determined effort was made by the domestic producers in 1919 to secure protective legislation, but congressmen found the proposal very unpopular among their farming constituencies and turned a deaf ear to the appeals for help.

The government, however, is affording practically every form of assistance short of tariff protection and bounties to the domestic producers. Samples of fine dust from all parts of the country are being collected and analyzed; apparatus for leaching, evaporation and crystallization has been designed after elaborate experimentation to determine the most economical processes, and an experimental plant has been established at Sumnerland, Cal., under the direction of the bureau of soils to investigate the possibility of a permanent kelp-potash industry on the Pacific coast.

Envoys to London Who Is Being Talked of as Lansing's Successor

John W. Davis

According to reports from Washington, John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain, is being seriously considered by President Wilson as successor to Robert Lansing as Secretary of State. He is experienced in statecraft and has been very successful in handling his important post in London.

Incredible.

"I was talking to Professor Hoozis last night. You know he's just back from an exploring expedition to central Africa."

"Did he make any important discoveries?"

"Well, he says he found a race of people so uncivilized that they had never even heard of moving pictures."

How'd He Know?

I was buying a pair of shoes one day, and while waiting on me the clerk wanted to know if I would like to try the left shoe on. I told him it was not necessary, whereupon he exclaimed, "O, you have a hole in your stocking; is that it?" All the eyes of the customers were set upon me.—Exchange.

What's in a Name?

At a school the other day they were studying dogs and the teacher showed the picture of one rather odd looking specimen and said with authority: "Spitz."

"Does it spit all the time an' on everything?" little Tommy wanted to know.

Its Appearance.

"I have found a part of your missing medical book."

"What part is it?"

"It looks like the vermiform appendix."

The "Punch" in Gasoline.

The genie that came out of the bottle in the "Arabian Nights" story became, when liberated, a monstrous power. The energy stored in a pint of gasoline is hardly less stupendous.

One pint of gasoline represents 12,000 "B. T. U.'s" of energy. A "B. T. U." (the abbreviation for British thermal unit) will lift 750 pounds one foot. Thus there is in that single pint of innocent looking fluid enough power to lift six tons 750 feet into the air—that is to say, 200 feet higher than the top of Washington monument.—Kansas City Star.

Call of Nicotine

Two south side street cars were approaching each other not long ago, at least not so many months ago, this camouflage being necessary in order that a vigilant spotter may not be able to find out the culprit, for it was worth the delay to laugh at what happened.

Suddenly one motorman signaled the other. The north-bound car came to a grinding stop and the car south-bound on the other track did likewise. And then follow this:

"Gimme a chew off the old plug." (Business of reaching for the said plug and passing it over. Business of taking a chew and passing it back).

"Thanks. S'long!" And the cars were on their way.—Indianapolis News.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

The Northfield News in a column and half editorial proposes the name of W. F. Schilling of that city, for the republican nomination for governor.

It says that the next governor must be more than a politician, and more than an ordinary business man. He must have the training and the qualifications to deal with men of affairs in every walk in life. He must be a man who has more than a knowledge of agriculture, and must be big enough to recognize the purposes of organized labor, and be democratic enough to deal with its membership in a manner that they can understand, and then goes on to say that Mr. Schilling possesses these qualifications.

Mr. Schilling is a Minnesotan by birth, and was a member of the St. Paul typographical union before becoming editor of the Northfield News for about 12 years. He has been a writer for agricultural papers and was president of the State Dairy-men's association for three years and president of the state Farmers Institute for three years, and a pioneer in community work.

Apparently, he is good timber from which the republicans may select a candidate for governor.

The catechism of Dr. Martin Luther is still in general use. The church is showing no inclination to lay aside the catechism in the instruction of children, believing that it is as necessary to teach the fundamental truths of the Christian religion to the children of today as it was four hundred years ago.

The church holds also to the conviction that a clear and concise statement of Christian truth thoroughly mastered and understood will be more helpful and bear more fruit in later life than a wider range of material less thoroughly mastered.

Our congregation introduced last summer a graded Sunday school system based on the catechism in connection with Bible narrative and Bible history. A very faithful attendance has been secured on the part of both pupils and Sunday school teachers.

First Congregational Sunday School

A marked improvement in attendance was noted in Sunday's session. After the opening exercises, the teachers spent a quiet period with their classes.

Next Sunday will be what is known as Decision Sunday, throughout the churches and Sunday schools in the United States. This is a special day on which all who so desire, may enlist their services for life work for Christ, such as ministerial and missionary work, Social Service work in His name and the many other branches of service. Christ needs you, will you answer the call?

The minister will start a class of instruction in the very near future for all those who wish to join the church. Anyone who may have been absent yesterday, and desires to enter this class, please give your name to Rev. Fred Errington.

Salvation Army

We have a flourishing young peoples work, and company meeting. Most all of our scholars know Christ as their personal Savior, through conversion.

Our hall is too small to rightly accommodate the classes. Services are held for children every Saturday afternoon, called "The Band of Love Class." Its motto is "The Children for Christ, and Christ for the Children."

One Result of Winter

Life indoors with lack of exercise and heavy food is apt to throw the digestive organs out of order. Foley Cathartic Tablets are a wholesome physic that thoroughly cleanse the bowels without griping or nausea. They sweeten the stomach; invigorate the liver; banish headaches, biliousness, bloating, gas. H. P. Dunn.

Mark of Egotism.

Boastfulness is by no means the only way in which egotism is revealed. There are numerous little telltale signs, knowledge of which is distinctly useful in social and business relations.

An egotist, for example, is commonly a poor listener in a conversation.

Because of undue eagerness to express his ideas he is prone to interrupt anybody who may be speaking. Whether he assent or dissent from what is being said, he finds it hard to let the speaker finish.

Often this is charitably ascribed to mere lack of good manners, over-enthusiasm or a nervous uneasiness. But nine times out of ten egotism is at the bottom of it.

Russia's Small Museums.

The study of natural history is encouraged in some Russian cities by means of miniature museums. They are nothing more than large glass showcases, located in public squares, vacant storehouses and other places where people in large numbers congregate or pass. These are filled with specimens taken from the larger exhibition places. Pedestrians with a few moments to spare find it profitable to loiter in front of the convenient displays to study the stuffed birds and animals under the glass. The contents of the cases are changed weekly, thus providing new and interesting exhibits at frequent intervals. Lectures are given at the small museums at noon hours and on holidays.

Ancient Egyptian Confectionery.

The invention of confectionery, an English writer guesses, is due to Noah, who "first hit on the idea of boiling down the starch of the wheat and the juice of the grape. The result was a paste, said to be the original of our present day 'Turkish delight.' Among the ancient Egyptians whole fruits, particularly figs and dates, were used for flavoring purposes, the latter especially for preserves and cakes. In old tombs date sweetmeats have been found, also records of honey jellies. The making of confectionery, in fact, goes back 3,400 years, proof of which is to be found on the walls of Egyptian tombs."

These war-time prices were a great stimulus to domestic production. The brines of certain alkaline lakes in western Nebraska and of Lake Sevier, California, became the chief sources, supplying potash as a primary product, and their output in 1915 was 147,125 short tons. The kelp beds of the Pacific in that year yielded 14,456 tons.

Little for Farmers, at High Prices.

With the signing of the armistice the domestic establishments nearly all shut down on the assumption that importation of potash from Germany would be resumed. As the days passed, however, and no German potash appeared, and as prices remained very near the war level, some of the producers took fresh courage and resumed operations, though the output in 1919 was only a fraction of that of 1918.

In the meantime farmers have been compelled to reduce their use of potash about 90 per cent, and to pay abnormally high prices for the small amounts they can obtain. Production in Germany is retarded by the shortage of coal, and there is no immediate prospect of either the supply or the prices approaching a pre-war level. A determined effort was made by the domestic producers in 1919 to secure protective legislation, but congressmen found the proposal very unpopular among their farming constituents and turned a deaf ear to the appeals for help.

The government, however, is affording practically every form of assistance short of tariff protection and bounties to the domestic producers. Samples of fine dust from all parts of the country are being collected and analyzed; apparatus for leaching, evaporation and crystallization has been designed after elaborate experimentation to determine the most economical processes, and an experimental plant has been established at Sumnerland, Cal., under the direction of the bureau of soils to investigate the possibility of a permanent kelp-potash industry on the Pacific coast.

Glass of Hot Water
Before Breakfast
a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

KNIGHTS PYTHIAS GALA EVENING

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Founding of the Order in This State Celebrated

AND BANQUET WAS SERVED

By Pythian Sisters—Short Social
Session—Rank of Knight Conferred on Nine

White Cross Lodge No. 30 Knights of Pythias of Brainerd fittingly celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order in this state on Thursday evening, February 19.

An elaborate banquet was served by the Pythian Sisters. Every place was occupied and all did justice to the excellent dinner prepared. A short social session followed that the smokers might not miss their after dinner necessity. The lodge was called to order at 7:30 when the rank of Knight was given to nine trembling Esquires. Following the degree work the ladies were invited in and instructive talks were given outlining the history of the Pythian order in the United States and in Minnesota in particular. Luncheon was then served and after luncheon all enjoyed the impromptu speeches that were given by a number of those present, and the evening's festivities closed by singing the first verse of the national anthem.

The meeting was attended by Knights young and old and some of the old-timers stated that this gathering reminded them of days gone by when the K. P. lodge outranked all other lodges in the city.

The large attendance and the interest that is being shown in this lodge speaks well for the future of the lodge and its lessons of patriotism and sterling loyalty to the Stars and Stripes cannot help but do good not only to the members but to all with whom they come in contact.

APPEAR IN DULUTH U. S. COURT

Sentence Was Deferred for One Week in Case of John J. Crowell and
Daniel Dike

(Duluth News Tribune of Sunday)
After bringing in eight new indictments making a total of 58 returned during the present term of United States district court, the grand jury was Saturday discharged by Judge Page Morris. Trial of the cases will be taken up Monday afternoon, when it is expected that the last civil case on the calendar will have been disposed of.

John J. Crowell, Joseph Dabronich, Daniel Dike and Louis Smilich were indicted on a charge of conspiring to introduce liquor into Indian territory within Crow Wing county. It is alleged that they did a thriving business, taking orders and making deliveries of liquor on a stated schedule. They were arrested last August 15.

Sentence Deferred

Crowell and Dike asked to be arraigned soon after the indictments were returned against them and both pleaded guilty before Judge Page Morris. Sentence was deferred for one week to await the outcome of trials of the two remaining members of the alleged conspiracy.

Although Monday will be generally observed as a holiday commemorating the birthday of George Washington, Judge Morris announced that federal court will convene as usual that day.

Court Pays Tribute

"I trust that I will not be considered unpatriotic or unkind of the fact that Washington was this country's greatest man," he said. "I was memory of Washington in all reverence."

"But as the anniversary really falls on Sunday and there is a great deal of work before the court, we shall convene at the usual hour Monday and hold court throughout the day."

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING

Club Supper to be Served by New
House and Social Committee
Headed by Levi Johnson

The most important of the Chamber of Commerce activities for this week is scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Another of the club's famous suppers will start the festivities at 6 o'clock. The new house and social committee, under the leadership of Levi Johnson, is hatching up a dandy menu, the kind that will tickle the palate of the worst dyspeptic and still keep within the Lenten requirements. Immediately following the supper will come the regular meeting of the Chamber, which is especially important.

Secretary Fitzel has secured for this meeting Lieut-Col. N. B. Briscoe of the 79th Field Artillery, who will make a short talk on establishing closer relationship between the man in uniform and the folks at home. He writes that he had some mighty interesting disclosures to make, and promises to tell some mighty interesting things that Uncle Sam is planning for both soldiers and civilians.

Colonel Briscoe is stationed at Camp Funston, Kansas, the largest military reservation in the United States and the home of four regiments which the war department has recently designated as "Minnesota's Own." The colonel commands one of these Minnesota regiments.

All former service men are especially invited and urged to attend this meeting and hear Colonel Briscoe. Come for the supper at six o'clock if possible, which is a part of the entertainment planned for him and stay for the meeting which immediately follows.

The slogan, "Come and Bring a Friend," applies now as in the past, and it is hoped that all will carry out that idea to the letter by inducing as many as possible to be present. The menu for the supper will be published Tuesday.

FEDERAL AGENTS RAID TRAIN SATURDAY

International Passengers are Routed
From Berths at Midnight, Officers Search for Liquor

2 CASES, 17 BOTTLES ARE FOUND

No Arrests Made, But Persons Having Liquor Cautioned Not to Repeat Performance

Something new in federal raids for illicit liquor is the report published in the Duluth News Tribune of Sunday describing:

A legal holdup was staged early Saturday morning when United States Customs officers and a corps of deputies searched passengers and crew of a Winnipeg-Duluth train. They unearthed two cases and 17 individual bottles of liquor, confiscated as unlawfully smuggled into the United States for private consumption.

No arrests were made, the persons claiming to own the liquor escaping with a stern warning not to repeat the performance under penalty of imprisonment at Leavenworth. The names and addresses of a score of the offenders were taken by the officers.

Routed From Berths

The search of the train was described by the passengers as a complete surprise to them. Many were routed from their berths, while others, among whose baggage individual bottles were discovered, were compelled to line up in one of the day coaches. The inspection was thorough, beginning at the baggage cars and including the whole train, even to overturning cushions and mattresses in a search for the contraband.

ly observed as a holiday commemorating the birthday of George Washington, Judge Morris announced that federal court will convene as usual that day.

Court Pays Tribute

"I trust that I will not be considered unpatriotic or unmindful of the fact that Washington was this country's greatest man," he said. "I was memory of Washington in all reverence."

"But as the anniversary really falls on Sunday and there is a great deal of work before the court, we shall convene at the usual hour Monday and hold court throughout the day."

MAN IN UNIFORM, FOLKS AT HOME

Closer Relationship Between These
Two to be Discussed by Lieut-Col. N. B. Briscoe at

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING

Club Supper to be Served by New
House and Social Committee
Headed by Levi Johnson

The most important of the Chamber of Commerce activities for this week is scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Another of the club's famous suppers will start the festivities at 6 o'clock. The new house and social committee, under the leadership of Levi Johnson, is hatching up a dandy menu, the kind that will tickle the palate of the worst dyspeptic and still keep within the Lenten requirements. Immediately following the supper will come the regular meeting of the Chamber, which is especially important.

Secretary Sitzer has secured for this meeting Lieut-Col. N. B. Briscoe of the 79th Field Artillery, who will make a short talk on establishing closer relationship between the man in uniform and the folks at home. He writes that he had some mighty interesting disclosures to make, and promises to tell some mighty interesting things that Uncle Sam is planning for both soldiers and civilians.

Colonel Briscoe is stationed at Camp Funston, Kansas, the largest military reservation in the United States and the home of four regiments which the war department has recently designated as "Minnesota's Own." The colonel commands one of those Minnesota Regiments.

All former service men are especially invited and urged to attend this meeting and hear Colonel Briscoe. Come for the supper at six o'clock if possible, which is a part of the entertainment planned for him and stay for the meeting which immediately follows.

The slogan, "Come and Bring a Friend," applies now as in the past, and it is hoped that all will carry out that idea to the letter by inducing as many as possible to be present. The menu for the supper will be published Tuesday.

FEDERAL AGENTS RAID TRAIN SATURDAY

International Passengers are Routed
From Berths at Midnight, Officers Search for Liquor

2 CASES, 17 BOTTLES ARE FOUND

No Arrests Made, But Persons Having Liquor Cautioned Not to Repeat Performance

Something new in federal raids for illicit liquor is the report published in the Duluth News Tribune of Sunday describing:

A legal holdup was staged early Saturday morning when United States Customs officers and a corps of deputies searched passengers and crew of a Winnipeg-Duluth train.
They unearthed two cases and 17 individual bottles of liquor, confiscated as unlawfully smuggled into the United States for private consumption.

No arrests were made, the persons claiming to own the liquor escaping with a stern warning not to repeat the performance under penalty of imprisonment at Leavenworth. The names and addresses of a score of the offenders were taken by the officers.

Routed From Berths

The search of the train was described by the passengers as a complete surprise to them. Many were routed from their berths, while others, among whose baggage individual bottles were discovered, were compelled to line up in one of the day coaches. The inspection was thorough, beginning at the baggage cars and including the whole train, even to overturning cushions and mattresses in a search for the contraband.

LESE MAJESTIC LAW
WANTED BY PALMER

(From American Federation of Labor Weekly News Letter.)

New York, Feb. 23—"In his demand for a new sedition act Attorney General Palmer has at last given one illustration of the alleged inadequacy of existing law," says the New York World in an editorial entitled "Mr. Palmer's Lese Majeste."

"A man can go to the residence of the chief justice with a bomb and a threatening notice in his hands," he says, "and there would be no federal statute that we could use to punish that man for his act."

"Members of congress probably have not forgotten that a year ago several women went to the white house with nothing but suffrage banners in their hands; were promptly arrested, tried, convicted and imprisoned for disorderly conduct. Most congressmen must know, furthermore, that there is a criminal code of the United States in full effect in the District of Columbia, which is reinforced in every state by comprehensive local laws."

"New York, for example, has just convicted Benjamin Gitlow of criminal anarchy for publishing an incendiary newspaper, and he may be imprisoned for 10 years."

"If it is spectacular terrorism stopping short of actual violence that the attorney general wishes to penalize in drastic ways, he is to be reminded that the law gives courts wide discretion in dealing with such offenses, intent always being taken into account. If the intent is to intimidate or overthrow the government of the United States, various sections of the federal statutes already cover that ground. It might be difficult to prove that a mere menace to the chief justice was designed to set revolution afoot, but the magistrate is a citizen and is protected by the laws the same as any other citizen."

"What Mr. Palmer evidently wants is something in the nature of lese majeste by which crimes against certain persons may be punished with unusual severity. In the acceptance of that program congress does well to hesitate."

Many Schools Closed

Washington, Feb. 23—About three per cent of the schools of this country have been closed because of lack of teachers, due to low wages, said P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in a speech in this city. He estimated that only four-tenths of 1 per cent of the teachers of the whole country receive more than $1500 a year.

"Now, when we come to consider how important schools are in the life of the nation, we face a very serious situation in this matter of starving the teaching force," said the commissioner. The teachers are the seed corn of the crop of the future. But we cannot attract and hold in the teaching profession the kind of people we wish unless we pay them a living wage."

How Twelfth Month Got Name.

Our Saxon ancestors, who made the early history of England and laid the foundation of our English language, called December Winter-monat or winter month. In the early times those Saxons were pagans, simply because they had never heard the truth. But the truth reached them and they became converted to Christianity. Then they gave to the twelfth month a new name significant of the national change of mind. They called the month Eleigh-monat or holy month, from the anniversary that occurs in it of the birth of Christ. In the end the Latin name prevailed and so we call the month December.—Montreal Herald.
